Report of Mennonite village Raditschev.

Planned planting of different tree species: fruit bearing, nut trees, mulberry trees and grape vines. We report that in the local climate the grape vines do not tolerate the frost in winter and freeze. The willow trees spread on the meadows with low grass by themselves.

Note – this image appears out of context with the rest of the images in this Fond 134-1-158. The two pages before this one, images DSC01290 and DSC01292 also refer to the Mennonite colony of Raditschev. The text is in Russian Cyrillic. On the top of both pages is this line: “Братство колоний меннонитов”, which means Bruderschaft der mennonitischen Kolonien. I did find an internet reference to a Hutterite colony of Raditschev, close to Hutteral, which places it south of the Prischib colonies. --MW
